

Owingsville Outlook.

THURSDAY, AUG. 28, 1884.

Local Matters.

A fine line of neckwear at Slesser's Furniture, in suites or single, at C. H. Hoos'.

Corn is looking pretty well, but is needing rain.

Hagan Wills, of Sherburne, is in town this week.

Hon. Z. T. Young, of Morehead, is attending court.

Mrs. J. M. Elliott, of Catlettsburg, is visiting in town.

Some of our growers have begun cutting their tobacco.

A good deal of the tobacco crop has been cut the past week.

Joe Mark sold a nice gelding to A. L. Wright Monday for $60.

There are only three prisoners in our jail, one being a lunatic.

Miss Mallie Touch, of Mt. Sterling, is visiting Mrs. B. F. Fratman.

Miss Flora Johnson, of Morehead, is visiting Miss Lucy Honaker.

The condition of Dr. W. C. Nesbitt's little baby is considerably improved.

Died: Near Stepstone, Aug. 21, Washington Daboard, aged 80 years.

WANTED—A good mountain milk cow and calf. Apply to W. C. Nesbitt.

Elder Pinkerton, of Grayson, preaches at the Christian church Sunday night.

Elder Zimmerman is holding a protracted meeting at Runnels school house.

Wagon loads of fine native water melons are seen on our streets every day now.

Mr. C. H. Hoos has some splendid bed room sets, which he is selling at low figures.

We understand that $2,750 has been offered and refused for corn in the field in this county.

Capt. W. T. Havens, the clever editor of the Sentinel-Democrat, called to see us Monday.

Thus, Webster, of Carlisle, was visiting his relatives, Mr. T. W. Ewing in this place Sunday.

If you have a farm for sale, advertise it in the Outlook. Bath county land is in demand.

The official case of this Appellate District is given in another column. Holt's majority is 625.

M. H. C. Darnell, of Bainbridge, Ind., arrived on a visit to his father-in-law, Mr. J. A. J. Lee Monday.

Mr. F. A. Goodpaster and John Dunham had some splendid samples of tobacco on exhibition last week.

John Gibell, of Illinois, Ills., is visiting relatives in the county, and will return home next Wednesday.

Has Hog Remedy, sure cure for hog cholera. W. H. Downey, Owingsville, agent for Bath county, 46.

If you want a suite of furniture call on John Gillon. He will sell you at a slight advance on manufacturers' prices.

Rev. Harry G. Henderson will preach in the Methodist church, in this place, next Sabbath morning and night.

John Gillon gives special attention to the undertaking department of his business. All calls promptly attended to.

Ask your merchant for the "O. & B." boot or shoe and don't be put off with any other. They are the best and cheapest.

The Bath county Teachers' Institute will be held the last week in September. Due announcement of the program will be given.

Mrs. T. J. Young left on Friday last, for Lebanon, Ky., to attend her father, Mr. Harvey McElroy, who is in very delicate health.

The Southern Exposition has tendered to the members of the Kentucky press a reception on Thursday and Friday of this week.

Mrs. Nannie Walker, of Alexandria, Virginia, together with her son, J. B. Waller is visiting her brother, Dr. J. T. Catlett, in this place.

Miss Nettie Lisle, of Lebanon, who spent several pleasant weeks visiting Mrs. T. J. Young, left last Friday on a visit to Shivelyville, Ky.

J. M. McDonald sold to J. M. Richey, Monday, thirty six head of cattle at $5.62½ per hundred, and fourteen at $5. to be weighed today.

If you want furniture price Charley Hoos a call.

Shooting at Sharpsburg.

Last Saturday afternoon, our neighboring village of Sharpsburg was the scene of another shooting occurrence, the particulars of which are as follows: Daniel Henry, an itinerant photographer, hitherto of Estill county, and who had been drinking for several days, began using unseemly and boisterous language in the McWhorter Hotel at that place. The Marshal, who is a son of the landlady of the hotel, remonstrated with him, and endeavored to keep him quiet. Henry drew his pistol and attempted to shoot McWhorter, the weapon failing to discharge. The Marshal drew his pistol and shot him in the side, inflicting a painful, but not serious wound. At least accounts he was doing as well as could be expected.

Wm. Kelley and his wife, who live at Reynoldsburg, in this county, do not seem to get along in their domestic relations as a gentle, loving couple should, and when the old lady kicks out of the traces, Wm. resorts to a very conclusive argument, as the following will show: On Sunday the pair were painting a gorgoe red, as usual when Mrs. Wm. gathered up her apron and proceeded to light out for parts unknown. The lord of the manor sternly commanded her to return to his protecting arms, failing to do which he quietly picked up an shotgun and let her have its contents in diver and sundry parts of her person. The wounds, though not serious, are quite painful, and Mrs. Kelley is now said to be quietly taking her meals off of the mantel piece. No arrests have been made.

Everything in the furniture line can always be found at C. H. Hoos'.

W. N. Smith, auctioneer, reports the following from J. W. Fussell's sale on Saturday last:

Cows brought from $25 to $95, yearling steers from $32 to $42 per head. One mare and four of her colts sold as follows: The mare, 18 years old, $125, 3 year old gelding $250, 2 year old gelding $194, 1 year old stallion $161, colt $100. Previous to this Mr. Fussell has realized from the increase of this sum more $2,200. The crowd in attendance was small but all other stock brought out value.

There are several important Commonwealth cases set for trial at the present term of court. Amongst others we may mention: The Commonwealth vs. B. F. Snelling, charge with murder; same vs. Samuel Duggett, same charge; same vs. Jeff Howard, same charge, and same vs. Ba Shouse, same offense. The trial of either case will consume a week and the probabilities are that at least two will be tried.

Mr. J. W. Fussell will remove to Mobile, Ala., about the first of October, where he will take an interest with the Seaboard Oil Company, a large and wealthy corporation, having its principal place of business in New York city. Mr. Fussell is a business man of superior qualifications and is sure to succeed at anything he undertakes.

The usual merriment that clings about the sheriff's office, was broken by a happy and pleasing event on Saturday. Jas. W. Withrow and Miss Mary E. Johnson were married by Elder Couch, in his usual happy style. A number of friends were present to witness the ceremony, and all joined in wishing the happy couple a long and prosperous life.

Mr. John Gillon, furniture dealer and undertaker, has constantly on hand a large assortment of first-class furniture, which he proposes to sell lower than any house in this section. He has good goods, and will give close bargains for cash. He invites an examination of his stock and prices. Give him a call before purchasing.

Mr. J. P. Pinkerton, the reverend republican candidate for a congressional nomination in this district, made a short speech at the court house Monday evening, presenting his claims to the party in this county. Mr. Pinkerton is a clever, sociable gentleman and a good speaker but if he does not get the nomination he will be Frank Powers' meat.

The following are the lucky numbers that drew the prizes at Slesser's: No. 101, china tea set; 292, clock and ornament; 303, parlor vase lamp; 404, spoon rack and spoons; 3029, library stands. Persons holding the above numbers are requested to present them immediately and claim their prizes.

A desirable farm is advertised in this impression of the Outlook. It is beautifully located on Licking and is well adapted to tobacco raising. Full particulars can be obtained by calling on or addressing Charles F. Jones, Wyoming, Ky.

"O. & B." boots and shoes have been adopted as the standard by the Chinese Empire and wooden shoes discarded.

Farewell.

In bidding farewell to the kind friends of the Hill City, I desire to express my appreciation of the kindness shown to myself and family during my brief residence among its citizens. While I regret the necessity that demands my departure, I shall ever cherish grateful recollections of my short term among a good people. Especially shall I recall with pleasure the dear sister who first welcomed me to the city with kindly hospitality, and the noble friend whose generosity made my departure financially agreeable. May God bless the dear friends of Owingsville and prosper them as they deserve. May we all meet again where parting is no more.

J. L. BAINES.

Nature.

OWINGSVILLE, KY., Aug. 20, 1884. Received of S. M. Parcell, agent of Equitable Life Assurance Society, of New York, three thousand dollars, in payment of life policy held by Albert McLain, deceased, in the above company.

Ler Rice, Administrator and guardian.

This company has 150 members in Bath county, and does the largest business of any life company in the world. All policies are non-forfeitable and contestable after due payments. The company has no contested claims on its books.

Deaths in 1873, 676. Capital nearly sixty millions.

S. M. PARCELL, Agent.

County Meeting.

The christian churches in Bath and Nicholas will hold a county convention at Bethel Christian church beginning September 25th, 1884, and continues two days. It is desired that all the Elders, Deacons, S. S. Sup., and Christian workers make a note of this and bring up reports from churches and S. S. The people of Bethel will provide homes for all who may be in attendance. Several preachers and speakers will speak in behalf of the owners, as one voice through and views the different forms. Some excited by never ceasing industry others, just a little labor, because necessity compels. Even a city dweller notices and loves the well-tilled clean paupers, the tilled soil, and though we may not so thoroughly familiar with its merit, one glance tells us something of the owner's care. The rough, beautiful, picturesque country roads charming picture. It was honored with a visit to Olympia Springs. What nature has provided it with will forth the highest praise, but I could say little for the art. Mt. Olympia (with the gods quite vanished), stands like the mountain in Macedonia beside our modest hills. Perhaps the most striking heightens it to the eyes of one gifted with a broad sense of imagination, but there is less need of imagination when visiting Carrington's rock. It is a solid pile of rock, it was my first view of such a peak of nature, and the visit, however, is all I would ever care to make, and I find the people living immediately around are less anxious than strangers. For instance, your little neighbor Uncle Matt as he is warmly built by it, has lived all his life within sight of it, and had never climbed to the top until the day we had the pleasure of accompanying him and I don't if any of your young men could show more agility in the act than did he. His desires, always as generous as his heart, to give us younger, stronger ones a helping hand up hill. I hope the citizens all appreciate such a neighbor as "mine host," whose home and heart seems open to all. I would ever care to make, and I find the people living immediately around are less anxious than strangers. For instance, your little neighbor Uncle Matt as he is warmly built by it, has lived all his life within sight of it, and had never climbed to the top until the day we had the pleasure of accompanying him and I don't if any of your young men could show more agility in the act than did he. His desires, always as generous as his heart, to give us younger, stronger ones a helping hand up hill. I hope the citizens all appreciate such a neighbor as "mine host," whose home and heart seems open to all. He seems like a strong oak, with snow powdered boughs to me, so grand and strong he looks, with his crown of white hair which looks like spun silver, covering his pink scalp. If you sit long enough at his honest in his expressing his inarticulate desire, know that it is because he knows the gods of life, and is capable to keep wife and know her worth. We and several others who were anxious to marry. We regret we are not quite decided to enter this sphere yet. Cupid has failed to me his sombre arrow with us. Your young men are most too young (those we met) and the several old bachelors must indeed feel that when "Pandora" opened her box, long ago, some of the woes must have clung to them. They are anxious to marry, but she cannot afford to protect and keep in motion the golden cage. Encourage the young ladies to look after these poor mortals who lead half lives, and to inspire them with ambitions, life and energy anew. I did not see such a creature as an old maid, but found some living among the hills. They modestly remain from view, I suppose. From what our ancestors tell us it must be a sad life to lead, this of single blessedness (no misery). Not only does the voice continually cry out, but action has universally compelled with compensation. As many as most is a poor home that can not afford a family, so I say it is a poor town that can not afford a home in this day of progress, and I see you possess this valuable resource, why makes himself quite comfortable with his dove-colored hair and powdered face, and two yards of a watch chain, while he busily engaged for the firm of "Walker, Doherty & Co." so he informs us. Girls, borrow all such ornaments for your homes, they add a grandeur that all fair Italy's art cannot afford, and in the future I mean to purchase all such of such in existence, and contrast them with the old fashioned who signs to give a young, but does not the golden ducats.

Judge Cooper's instructions to the grand jury were clear, pointed and forcible. Both lawyers and litigants are very much pleased with our new judge, and we think we can safely predict that he will make a most excellent official.

Thompson & Ramsey purchased last week of John B. Davidson, of Farmers, a splendid span of black mares.

The stable, which were the largest in this section of the State, are a total success, nothing remaining to show of what was once a beautiful structure. The cause of the fire is unknown, but it is supposed to be from a cigar stump which was dropped in the stable. The loss on the stable is $75,000. The loss but little insurance on the buildings, and none on the horses.

Died: On Friday last, near Moorefield, Dr. King Blunt, aged 35 years.

He had been sick but a short time, and gradually wasted away till death came to his relief. He was a young man of fine promise, well educated in his profession, and was winning laurels, when he died to "they the burden down." The afflicted family have a multitude of sympathizers, who mourn with them for their loss.

Mr. John Gillon, furniture dealer and undertaker, has constantly on hand a large assortment of first-class furniture, which he proposes to sell lower than any house in this section. He has good goods, and will give close bargains for cash. He invites an examination of his stock and prices. Give him a call before purchasing.

Mr. J. P. Pinkerton, the reverend republican candidate for a congressional nomination in this district, made a short speech at the court house Monday evening, presenting his claims to the party in this county. Mr. Pinkerton is a clever, sociable gentleman and a good speaker but if he does not get the nomination he will be Frank Powers' meat.

The following are the lucky numbers that drew the prizes at Slesser's: No. 101, china tea set; 292, clock and ornament; 303, parlor vase lamp; 404, spoon rack and spoons; 3029, library stands. Persons holding the above numbers are requested to present them immediately and claim their prizes.

A large turnout that clings about the sheriff's office, was broken by a happy and pleasing event on Saturday. Jas. W. Withrow and Miss Mary E. Johnson were married by Elder Couch, in his usual happy style. A number of friends were present to witness the ceremony, and all joined in wishing the happy couple a long and prosperous life.

Died: On Friday last, near Moorefield, Dr. King Blunt, aged 35 years. He had been sick but a short time, and gradually wasted away till death came to his relief. He was a young man of fine promise, well educated in his profession, and was winning laurels, when he died to "they the burden down." The afflicted family have a multitude of sympathizers, who mourn with them for their loss.

Mr. John Gillon, furniture dealer and undertaker, has constantly on hand a large assortment of first-class furniture, which he proposes to sell lower than any house in this section. He has good goods, and will give close bargains for cash. He invites an examination of his stock and prices. Give him a call before purchasing.

Mr. J. P. Pinkerton, the reverend republican candidate for a congressional nomination in this district, made a short speech at the court house Monday evening, presenting his claims to the party in this county. Mr. Pinkerton is a clever, sociable gentleman and a good speaker but if he does not get the nomination he will be Frank Powers' meat.

The following are the lucky numbers that drew the prizes at Slesser's: No. 101, china tea set; 292, clock and ornament; 303, parlor vase lamp; 404, spoon rack and spoons; 3029, library stands. Persons holding the above numbers are requested to present them immediately and claim their prizes.

A large turnout that clings about the sheriff's office, was broken by a happy and pleasing event on Saturday. Jas. W. Withrow and Miss Mary E. Johnson were married by Elder Couch, in his usual happy style. A number of friends were present to witness the ceremony, and all joined in wishing the happy couple a long and prosperous life.

Died: On Friday last, near Moorefield, Dr. King Blunt, aged 35 years.

He had been sick but a short time, and gradually wasted away till death came to his relief. He was a young man of fine promise, well educated in his profession, and was winning laurels, when he died to "they the burden down." The afflicted family have a multitude of sympathizers, who mourn with them for their loss.

Mr. John Gillon, furniture dealer and undertaker, has constantly on hand a large assortment of first-class furniture, which he proposes to sell lower than any house in this section. He has good goods, and will give close bargains for cash. He invites an examination of his stock and prices. Give him a call before purchasing.

Mr. J. P. Pinkerton, the reverend republican candidate for a congressional nomination in this district, made a short speech at the court house Monday evening, presenting his claims to the party in this county. Mr. Pinkerton is a clever, sociable gentleman and a good speaker but if he does not get the nomination he will be Frank Powers' meat.

The following are the lucky numbers that drew the prizes at Slesser's: No. 101, china tea set; 292, clock and ornament; 303, parlor vase lamp; 404, spoon rack and spoons; 3029, library stands. Persons holding the above numbers are requested to present them immediately and claim their prizes.

A large turnout that clings about the sheriff's office, was broken by a happy and pleasing event on Saturday. Jas. W. Withrow and Miss Mary E. Johnson were married by Elder Couch, in his usual happy style. A number of friends were present to witness the ceremony, and all joined in wishing the happy couple a long and prosperous life.

Died: On Friday last, near Moorefield, Dr. King Blunt, aged 35 years.

He had been sick but a short time, and gradually wasted away till death came to his relief. He was a young man of fine promise, well educated in his profession, and was winning laurels, when he died to "they the burden down." The afflicted family have a multitude of sympathizers, who mourn with them for their loss.

Mr. John Gillon, furniture dealer and undertaker, has constantly on hand a large assortment of first-class furniture, which he proposes to sell lower than any house in this section. He has good goods, and will give close bargains for cash. He invites an examination of his stock and prices. Give him a call before purchasing.